

CAUGHT BY THE CABLE

A Workman on the Third Avenue Road Severely Injured.

Chambers Street Hospital Slow in Sending an Ambulance.

Call Sent in at 2:35 and Was Responded to at 8:15.

Joseph Colligan, twenty-six years old, of 68 East Sixteenth street, a machinist employed by the Third avenue cable road, was seriously injured shortly after 2 o'clock this morning by being caught by a running cable while he was engaged oiling the machinery in the man-hole in front of 18 Park Row.

Just after noon yesterday the short cable which runs around the loop in Park Row got out of order. A large force of men was put to work repairing the cable. By 1 o'clock this morning the work of repairing the cable was about completed, but a small force of men, of whom Colligan was one, was kept at work oiling the machinery and watching the cable to see that all the broken strands had been repaired.

Colligan was engaged on this work, when shortly after 2 o'clock there was a loud, crashing noise, and he was caught by a passing cable car. Colligan was caught by the cable, and thrown violently against one of the iron rods which held the machinery in place.

A deep gash was cut in his chest, and he was otherwise badly crushed and bruised.

The parties of the injured man were heard by his fellow-workmen, and the cable was quickly stopped, and Colligan was removed from his perilous position.

According to a Policeman Murphy and the Oak street station records the call for an ambulance was sent at 2:35 o'clock. It was not until 3:15 that an ambulance arrived.

The hospital people claim that the call was not received until after 3 o'clock, and it was reported on the "reporters' board" at the hospital.

At the hospital this morning it was said that the surgeons thought Colligan would recover.
